

Feminist priorities

FOR PEOPLE, PLANET AND PEACE

The event bring key recommendations from global eco-feminist movement to Stockholm+50. Despite 50 years of global environmental governance and 7 years of SDGs, governments continue to struggle with the human rights and gender equality dimensions of environmental policies. The Women's Major Group was created at the Earth Summit Rio'92 to strengthen women's leadership in environmental policies and to advocate for gender equality as a key dimension of sustainable development policies. Key questions for debate with participants will be:

What are the priorities of the Women's Major Group and how should Stockholm+50 support feminist sustainable development policies?
